Preface

The importance of formal education is diversified. The prime goal of modern education is not only to impart knowledge but rather to build a prosperous nation by developing skilled human resources. At the same time, education is the best means of developing a society that is free from superstitions and adheres to science and facts. To stand as a developed nation in the science and technology-driven world of the 21st century, we need to ensure quality education. A well-planned education is essential for enabling our new generation to face the challenges of the age and to motivate them with the strength of patriotism, values, and ethics. In this context, the government is determined to ensure education as per the demand of the age.

Education is the backbone of a nation and a curriculum provides the essence of formal education. Again, the most important tool for implementing a curriculum is the textbook. The National Curriculum 2012 has been adopted to achieve the goals of the National Education Policy 2010. In light of this, the National Curriculum and Textbook Board (NCTB) has been persistently working on developing, printing, and distributing quality textbooks. This organisation also works to review and revise the curriculum, textbooks, and assessment methods according to needs and realities.

Secondary education is a vital stage in our education system. This textbook is catered to the age, aptitude, and endless inquisitiveness of the students at this level, as well as to achieve the aims and objectives of the curriculum. It is believed that the book written and meticulously edited by experienced and skilled teachers and experts will be conducive to a joyful experience for the students. It is hoped that the book will play a significant role in promoting creative and aesthetic spirits among students along with subject knowledge and skills.

Due to globalization, rapid communication, and digitalization, the need and importance of English is increasing. English is one of the powerful tools for pursuing higher study, using technology, developing interpersonal communication, and accessing local and global job markets. The curriculum makes it explicit that language learning will be graded and contents will replicate real-life contexts to enhance language learning for communication. The English For Today textbooks have been developed to help students attain communicative competence in English with particular attention to the development of the four language skills i.e. listening, speaking, reading and writing.

It may be mentioned here that the textbook has been reviewed and revised for the academic year 2025. It is mentionable here that the last version of the textbook developed according to the curriculum 2012 has been taken as the basis. Meticulous attention has been paid to the textbook to make it more learner-friendly and free from errors. However, any suggestions for further improvement of this book will be appreciated.

Finally, I would like to thank all of those who have contributed to the book as writers, editors, reviewers, illustrators and graphic designers.

Weeks and months went by. Every day Shahana helps with the household work. Every day she works hard to prepare her lessons. Every day she goes to madrasah, teaches her students and helps both weak and bright ones. They often come to her in the teachers' room, in the corridor and even on the road, and talk to her about any academic or personal problems.

Within a year Shahana becomes a very good teacher. Students give her salam wherever they see her. Teachers, even the Head Teacher, admire her. Parents and other people in the community come to see her at home and at the madrasah and pay her great respect.

One day her husband said, "You've opened my eyes, Shahana. Teaching is more than a job. I didn't know it. Congratulations!"

"Thank you," she smiled.

"Tell me, Shahana, how you could be such a great teacher?" Zamil wanted to know.

"I don't only teach my subject. I care for my students. I love them. I myself demonstrate good behaviour and inspire them to be good. That's all I do," replied Shahana.

Lesson 3: A New Generation

Learning outcomes:

After we have studied this unit, we will be able to

- Understand the concept of generational naming and its historical context
- Analyse the unique characteristics and challenges of Generation Z
- Examine the influence of global events on generational identity
- Explore the legacy of generational struggles in Bangladesh
- Evaluate the importance of governance to meet the needs of new generations

GenZ and Revolution

Listen to the song 'Kotha Ko' by Shezan on internet.

Have you heard the song 'Kotha Ko' by Shezan? While singers from earlier generations were often too afraid to use music as a form of protest, artists like Shezan and Hannan have courageously spoken out. Their rap songs became anthems of the July Uprising in 2024. The new generation is no longer afraid, they are brave and different. But how do we make sense of the difference? What defines different generations? And what are the connections that link them across time?

Although generational labels are rooted in Western ideas and may not universally apply, they can sometimes offer a useful framework for understanding changing social dynamics. The idea of naming generations started in the early 20th century with the 'Lost Generation'. This referred to those who suffered the aftermath of World War I and the Great Depression.

Timeline of generations in the Western world

The naming practice continued with Generation X and then Millennials, eventually reaching Generation Z. Generation Z is a group that grew up entirely in the digital age—the first to zoom into the internet.

Students protest for safe roads wearing a Guy Fawkes mask, Dhaka, Bangladesh, August 1, 2018

Growing up with social media, a mobile internet, and a lot of information, Gen Z experiences a paradox: hyperconnected yet often isolated, digitally adept but frequently anxious, free yet persistently stressed. They have also witnessed transformative global events—climate crises, political turmoils like the Ukraine-Russia war and the genocide in Palestine that shape the world they are supposed to inherit

Freedom fighters rejoice in victory, Bangladesh, 1971

In Bangladesh, the struggle for progress has long been a part of each generation. If the freedom fighters of 1971—largely part of the Baby Boomer generation—helped liberate the country, their struggle laid the groundwork for the 1980s' fight for democracy against autocracy

A schoolboy chanting slogans with "We Want Justice" painted on his body during the Road Safety protests, 2018

Today's young generation, born around 2000, carries this legacy forward. The 2018 road safety protests and the brutal crackdown that followed marked a significant shift in Gen Z's consciousness, sharpening their political awareness and reshaping the role of media in their world

Consequently, the 2024 uprising was led by this generation, who realized

the ineffectiveness of political establishments and grew increasingly frustrated with the status quo.

The July Uprising of 2024 signals an urgent call for adaptation. Outdated methods can no longer meet the challenges of today's world. To truly support Gen Z's ambitions, we need concrete steps, as political rhetoric has failed them. Only with this commitment can the vision and energy of this generation be given the support they deserve.

Lesson 4: Whose Child is This?

A Read the poem aloud and then recite it to the class.

Whose Child is This?

"Whose child is this?" I asked one day
Seeing a little one out at play.
"Mine", said the parent with a tender smile.
"Mine to keep a little while
To bathe his hands and comb his hair,
To tell him what he is to wear,
To prepare him that he may always be good
And each day do the things he should."
"Whose child is this?" I asked again,
As the door opened and someone came in
"Mine", said the teacher with the same tender smile.

"Mine to keep just for a little while,
To teach him how to be gentle and kind,
To train and direct his dear little mind,
To help him live by every rule
And get the best he can from school."

"Whose child is this?" I ask once more,
Just as the little one entered the door

"Ours", said the parent and the teacher as they smiled,
And each took the hand of the little child.

"Ours to love and train together
Ours this blessed task forever."

[Anonymous]

Note:

tender = kind, gentle; loving to bathe = to wash

to train = to teach

blessed = noble

Lesson 5: Fixed price shop

Key words : stationery bargain haggle offer agree on

A Look at the shop and answer these questions.

- 1 What kinds of things do you find in the shop?
- 2 What are the students doing?
- 3 Who is the shopkeeper?

B Read the text and answer the following questions.

Ms Shahana Huda is talking to the students about a new kind of shop

Shahana You can buy any stationery items here, like pens, pencils notebooks, coloured paper, in fact everything you need, for writing and drawing You can also buy some food items, like biscuits, buns, bananas, bottles of mineral water and some other necessary things You can also buy your school uniform and other clothes. There are a number of benefits of this shop. You don't have to bargain or haggle with the shopkeeper over the prices of anything.

Hridoy : What is bargain or haggle, teacher?

Shahana Suppose you want to buy a shirt or a dress in a shop in the market. You ask, "How much is this?" The shopkeeper says, "300 taka." But in many cases, this price is more than the real price So you offer 200 taka or even less The shopkeeper says, "No, I can't sell it for 200 taka." Then you offer 225 taka and he may still say, "No, it'll be a loss for me." This process of asking for and offering more and less money is called 'bargaining' or 'haggling'. It goes on until you both (buyer and seller) agree on a price, say 250 taka in this case. This price is acceptable to both of you.

Sazia : If there is no bargaining, how are we going to buy things?

Shahana : You don't need to bargain. It will be a fixed-price shop.

Questions

- 1 Do you go shopping? Where is the shop?
- 2 What do you usually buy?
- 3 Do you bargain? Why do you do that?
- 4 Do you know about a 'Fixed-price' shop? Where is it? What does it sell?

This price tag will be attached to the item or items. You will pick an item you like, look at the price tag and put the money in the box kept there. And the thing is now yours.

The students are not clear about this kind of shop. They know that a shop always has a shopkeeper. So they are confused.

Sheela : In that case, someone may take a thing and go away without paying.

Shahana : Nobody will do it. If anybody does, it will be stealing.

Ratu : Who'll see them stealing?

Shahana : Conscience. Do you know what conscience is? OK. There is something in your mind called conscience. It tells you whether your actions are right or wrong. Is stealing a right thing or a wrong thing?

Students : Wrong thing

Shahana Then your conscience will tell you, "This is a wrong thing. You must not do it." If you steal or do a bad thing, your conscience will prick you and trouble you. And you will never have your peace of mind. So to be a good and happy person, you should have a clear conscience.

Dist. Nilphamari
12 May 2013

Dear Hridoy

Thank you for your letter of 1st May. It gives us such an exciting piece of news! I cannot still believe that there could be a shop without a shopkeeper. I told about it to my relatives, friends, classmates and, of course, my teacher, Miss Nishat. Everybody was surprised. Miss Nishat likes the idea so much that she immediately talked about it to our Superintendent. We had already a meeting in our madrasah with teachers and students. At the beginning of the meeting, the Superintendent asked me to talk about the Morality Shop in your Madrasah. At first I read out part of your letter and then I explained how such a shop in your Madrasah is greatly helping you, students, teachers and the community at large. The Superintendent was quite positive about the usefulness of such a shop. He formed a committee with Miss Nishat and two other teachers and some senior students to draw up a plan for opening a morality shop in our Madrasah. Isn't it great? You will be glad to know that I am on the committee too.

I'm coming to see your Morality Shop with a friend of mine next weekend. See you then. Give my regards to Aunt and Uncle.

All the best.

Lesson 12: A hospital window

Key words : vivid overlook view skyline in detail

- A Read aloud the story about a hospital window and think about the questions.

Two sick men were given the same room in a hospital. One man could sit up in his bed. His bed was next to the room's only window. The other man spent all his time lying on his bed opposite the window. The men talked for hours almost every day. They talked about their wives and children, their homes, their jobs and almost about everything.

Q1 Can you guess why they talk about all these things?

Every afternoon the man in the bed by the window would sit up and talk to his roommate about all the things he could see outside the window. The man on the other bed eagerly waited for this speaking and listening time. His friend's vivid descriptions of passing things seen through the window inspired him to live.

Q2 Can you guess what the man near the window talked about to his friend?

The window overlooked a park with a lovely lake. Ducks and swans played on the water, while children floated their paper boats. A wonderful view of the skyline could be seen in the distance.

The man by the window told his friend all this in detail. The listener would close his eyes and see everything in his mind's eye.

Q3 What would the listener feel and do if one day his friend could not sit up and talk?

Days and weeks passed. One morning the doctor came to the room on his daily round. He found the lifeless body of the man by the window. He died peacefully in his sleep. The doctor made all the arrangements to take the body away.

The sad friend wanted to move to the empty bed next to the window. The doctor allowed him.

On his new bed the man painfully propped himself up. He was very excited. He slowly looked through the window to see the real world outside. What did he see?

Q4 Can you guess what he saw?

The window just faced a blank wall. He asked the doctor, "Doctor, I see nothing but a blank wall. How could my friend describe so many wonderful things outside the window?"

The doctor replied, "Did he?" The man was completely blind!"

B Discuss in groups and write an answer to this question:

Why did the blind man describe all those wonderful things outside the window?

Helen Keller was a great humanitarian. She cared deeply for the sick, injured and disabled people. The disabled people have physical or mental problems that limit their activities or senses. Helen devoted her life to help them.

Helen was born in 1880 in Alabama, USA. Her parents were Captain Arthur Keller and Katherine Adams Keller. Her family was not rich. Their main source of income was cotton plantation.

Helen was born healthy, but in 1882 she became deaf, dumb and blind after a high fever. Her father heard about Perkins School for the Blind in Boston and contacted the Director there. In 1887 the Director sent one of his best students, Anne Sullivan, to help Helen. Anne worked hard to enable her to communicate.

In 1890 Helen's formal education started at Horace Mann School for the deaf in Boston. In 1892 she went to Wright Humason School for the deaf in New York. Helen improved her communication skills and studied regular academic subjects. She then decided to go to college, and attended Cambridge School for Young Ladies in 1896. Later she studied at Radcliffe College. Here she learnt Braille, which was a new technique for reading. She also learnt how to type. Anne Sullivan was always with Helen. She sat with Helen in class and helped her by interpreting lectures and texts. In 1904 Helen received her BA degree with Honours from Radcliffe College.

Helen spent her life helping disabled people to learn. She died on June 1, 1968.

"What sports do you take part in, Zishan?" asked Jahid. Zishan could not answer. There was no playground in his madrasah and around his house. Shima also told them how she won the first prize for 100 metre sprint in her madrasah annual sports. She sang a beautiful Bhawaiya. Everybody clapped their hands in delight.

The family gathering in the yard carried on with laughter and conversations. At one point, the children asked their grandfather to tell them a story. So, he began to tell the tale of a selfish giant who had a beautiful garden.

The Selfish Giant

Every afternoon as they were coming from school the children used to go and play in the Giant's garden.

It was a large lovely garden, with soft green grass. Here and there over the grass stood beautiful flowers. All around the garden were trees filled with sweet fruit. The birds sat on the trees and sang so sweetly that the children used to stop their games in order to listen to them. 'How happy we are here!' they cried to each other.

One day the Giant came back. He had been to visit his friend in a distant land, and had stayed with him for seven years. When he arrived, he saw the children playing in his garden.

'What are you doing here?' cried the Giant in a very gruff voice. The children ran away in fear.

'My own garden is my own garden,' said the Giant. 'I will allow nobody to play in it but myself.' So, he built a high wall all round the garden, and put up a notice:

TRESPASSERS WILL BE PUNISHED

C Discuss in groups and answer this question:

How do you know that the giant is selfish?

D Have you ever seen any garden or park? Where is it? Describe it using the following clues:

The children had now nowhere to play. There were no gardens around and the roads were busy and crowded. After madrasah they used to go round the high wall and talk about the beautiful garden inside. "How happy we were there!" they said to each other.

Q 1 What do you think the children would do now?

Then came the spring. And all over the country there were flowers and there were birds. Only in the garden of the Giant it was still winter. Here no birds were singing and no flowers blossoming. There were only snow and frost and north wind in it.

"I cannot understand why the spring is so late in coming," said the Giant. He was sitting at the window of his big castle and looking out at his cold, dry and lifeless garden. "I hope there will be a change in the weather."

But neither spring nor summer came to his garden.

B Discuss in groups and write an answer to this question:

What happens in a garden in winter?

C Suppose you are one of the children who were not allowed to play in the Giant's garden. In this situation:

Lesson 10: The Selfish Giant (3)

Key words : perfume sight twitter

A Continue reading the story.

One morning the Giant was lying awake in bed when he heard some lovely music. It was so sweet to his ears that he thought it must be the King's musicians passing by. But in fact, it was only a little bird singing outside his window. Then the north wind stopped and a delicious perfume came to him through the open window. "I believe the spring has come at last," said the Giant. He jumped out of bed and looked out. What did he see?

He saw the most wonderful sight. Through a little hole in the wall the children crept in and they were sitting on the branches of the trees. In every tree there was a little child. And the trees were so delighted to have the children back again that they covered themselves with blossoms. They were waving their arms gently above the children's heads. The birds were flying about and twittering delightfully. The flowers were looking up through the green grass and laughing.

But only in one corner of the garden, it was still winter. There, under a tree, a little boy was standing alone crying. He was so small that he could not reach up to the branches of the tree. The poor tree was still covered with snow, and the north wind was blowing above it.

B Match the words with their meanings.

Words	Meanings
1 awake	a) sweet smell
2 perfume	b) sing in a delightful voice
3 sight	c) not sleeping
4 twitter	d) things / objects that you see

C Discuss in groups or pairs and answer these questions.

Lesson 11: The Selfish Giant (4)

Key words : frightened stretch out knock down fling

A Continue reading the story.

The giant felt sorry as he looked out "How selfish I have been!" he said to himself "Now I know why the spring would not come here "

So he quickly went out into the garden But when the children saw him they were so frightened that they all ran away, and the garden became winter again. Only the little boy did not run, for his eyes were so full of tears that he did not see the giant coming The giant quietly came behind him, took him gently in his hands and put him up in the tree And the tree at once broke into blossom, and the birds came and sang on it The little boy stretched out his two arms, flung them round the giant's neck and kissed him.

The other children saw this They saw that the giant was not wicked any longer So, they came running back And with them came the spring "It's your garden now, little children," said the giant Then he took a huge axe and knocked the wall down And the people passing by found the giant playing with the children in the most beautiful garden in the country
[adapted from Oscar Wilde]

- A. Read the following article published in The Kathmandu Post about the historic win of Bangladesh in SAFF U-20 Championship football tournament.

Bangladesh maul Nepal to win maiden SAFF U-20 Championship crown
Published on: August 28, 2024

Bangladesh wrote a new chapter in South Asian football history on Wednesday as they defeated hosts Nepal 4-1 in the final at the ANFA Complex in Lalitpur to win their maiden SAFF U-20 Championship title.

Mirajul Islam scored a brace. Rabby Hussen Rahul added the third and Piash Ahmed Nova rounded off a ruthless victory with their fourth goal as the Bengal Tigers finally got hands on the trophy nine years after the inception of the championship.

Backed by home support, and with defending champions India already out of the competition, Nepal started as strong favourites – having also beaten the Tigers 2-1 in the group stage – and were looking to reclaim the throne. But Urjan Shrestha's side were so wasteful and took too lightly a Bangladeshi team that had undone India in the semi-finals.

Nirajan Dhami was the biggest threat to Bangladesh in the first half, constantly bullying the opponents' post with his long rangings.

Bangladesh scored their first goal in the injury time of the first half with a clinical freekick from Mirajul, whose shot from just outside the edge of the box hit the upright before finding the net.

The lead injected so much energy into Bangladesh that they were all over Nepal after the restart.

Although Nepal pressed for equaliser immediately, it was Bangladesh who proved to be a better team with their second goal in the 55th minute thanks to Mirajul. Mirajul scored four goals to top the goal-scoring tally in the championship.

The two-goal deficit soaked all the life out of Nepal and Bangladesh took full advantage of it, adding another goal in the 71st minute scored by Rahul.

Samir Iamang gave some hopes of a fight back, reducing the deficit in the 80th minute with a free header.

Nova then put the final nail in the coffin, sending the ball through the legs of Sheikh in the sixth minute of stoppage time.

Mirajul was declared the most valuable player of the tournament, while Asif won the best goalkeeper award.

Nepal received the fair play award.

Bangladesh U-20 team coach AKM Maruful Haque dedicated the trophy to "the heroes and their souls who sacrificed their lives for the sake of a new Bangladesh."

"I hope this championship will inspire the nation to reform Bangladesh," he added.

Paul went to meet Kobita and her family the next day. He was in his blue trousers and a grey T-shirt. Kobita's mother, Ms Shahana, was a shy woman and she was reluctant to come in front of Paul. But Paul greeted her warmly in his newly learnt Bangla, "Kemon achen?" Ms Shahana loved hearing a foreigner speak in Bangla. She welcomed Paul to her house. Kobita started talking to Paul. She wanted him to write something for her madrasah magazine. As they were talking, Ms Shahana prepared quite a number of Bangladeshi dishes. She served him lunch at noon. Paul had plain rice, chicken curry, fish bhuna, dal and salad for lunch. He liked the tastes of all those delicious items except the dried fish bhorta. He is afraid of hot chillies. He also does not like eating fresh onions. So he skipped the mashed potato which had chopped fresh onions in it. But Paul became very fond of the dessert made of rice, gur, milk and coconut. He also enjoyed drinking tea made of fresh cow milk. Paul thanked Kobita and Ms Shahana for the lunch. In fact, he was tired of having vegetables and fried eggs for the last few weeks. Hello, dear readers I'm Paul. The boy that you can see feeding a rabbit in this picture was me when I was a little kid. Today, I'm going to tell you how I spent my childhood days and what my family and I liked and disliked.

My family and I loved going to the park on weekends. We liked having picnics there. My sister and I liked to watch the animals. My mother made simple sandwiches for us because both my mother and father hated cooking on picnic days. My sister and I loved playing around the park and feeding the animals. I didn't like sitting on the grass and doing nothing for hours. My parents liked to watch us play while they talked. We all liked going to the park because we loved being outdoors and feeling free. We could relax there and listen to the birds singing. We also enjoyed watching the little rabbits running around.

We could play as much as we wanted, but my father got angry if we went near the bushes. He didn't like letting his children go too far out of sight. Sometimes, when we went too far away, my mother called us back. She used to tell my sister that she had seen some spiders near the bushes. My sister was afraid of spiders. She still hates them. I'm not afraid of spiders, but I don't like flies. I just can't stand those little insects.

 shift (v) temperature climb (v) survive (v)

A Read the text and the conversation.

Samina is in class 7 and Arif in class 6. They both felt very uncomfortable the other day. It was just the beginning of March. And the day was very hot. In the small town of Sherpur, summer had come with all its heat and warmth. Samina and Arif had nothing much to do. While sitting idle on the veranda, they saw their uncle, Anwar coming to them. Anwar works at an NGO called Save the Earth. Samina and Arif started talking to their uncle about weather and climate.

- Anwar Children, why are you sitting idle here? You look very unhappy!
- Sabina . Uncle, it's so hot all day long.
- Arif : And there is no electricity. We can't use fans.
- Samina : We can't watch television either. Uncle, why is it so hot now?
- Anwar In fact, we've an early summer this year. It's been happening for the last four or five years. Seasons are shifting.
- Arif What's shifting, Uncle?
- Anwar Summer usually starts from April. But this year it has started in March. This moving from April to March is a shift or change.
- Samina : Why do seasons shift, Uncle?
- Anwar Well, it is because of climate change. And many things are happening on this earth due to climate change. For example, seasons are shifting, temperatures are climbing, and sea levels are rising. If things go on like this, our Planet Earth will be in danger.
- Samina Uncle, what will happen if the earth is in danger? How will we survive on this earth?

Lesson 2: What happens in Bangladesh?

Key words : prolonged adverse water logging landslide spell crop salinity coastal deforestation

- A Samina and Arif are very upset to read about the effects of climate change. They are more curious to know what will happen in Bangladesh. Read the following text to know about this.

Bangladesh is already experiencing the adverse impacts of global warming and climate change. Summers are becoming hotter and the monsoon is irregular. There are untimely heavy rainfalls causing water logging and landslides. Among other impacts are frequent floods, river erosion and crop damage due to drought, prolonged cold spells, salinity of water in the coastal areas etc.

Climate change has already started bringing disasters to Bangladesh. We remember the damage caused by the Aila in 2009. Climate change victims are increasing in number every day. The number of families and villages that lose their homes permanently to rivers every year is one of the highest in Bangladesh. An increasing number of people are suffering damage or loss to their property and some time life due to disasters caused by climate change. Following the climate change, the river bank and coastal erosion are increasing at an alarming rate. It is estimated that a 45-centimetre rise of sea level will flood almost 10.9 percent of our territory and will make 5.5 million people of our coastal regions homeless.

B Tick the best answer.

1. One outcome of climate change in Bangladesh is
 - a summers are becoming shorter
 - b summers are becoming milder.
 - c the monsoon is becoming irregular
 - d the cities are getting larger
2. The cyclone that hit Bangladesh in 2009 is called

5. The phrase 'prolonged cold spells' means
 - a long duration of cold waves
 - b long gap between two winters.
 - c longer nights during winter
 - d delay in doing something due to cold.

C In small groups discuss these questions.

- 1 Which animals in Bangladesh are in danger of extinction? What do you think we should do to protect these animals?

D Write five slogans to make people aware of the problems of climate change. Two are done for you.

- 1 Good environment is good health.
- 2 Air pollution causes health hazards

- 3 _____
- 4 _____
- 5 _____

Lesson 4: What can we do?

Key words : Lifestyle air conditioning dairy products tackle keep off (v) rechargeable

- A Samina and Arif now read about the things they can do to help stop global warming. Read the passage to know about what we can do.

It is easy to understand now that the global warming and climate change are caused by humans on earth. If we make least use of energy, the earth will be least polluted. The golden rule is, 'Avoid machines as much as possible'. If your family has a car, use it less and walk to the shops. Walking and running are much more fun than sitting in a car. You may use bicycles too. You can save energy by changing your lifestyle. For example, you can often avoid the air-conditioning in summer and use hand fans instead. You can also use solar energy. It is free and more environment friendly. You can use energy saving bulbs in your room. If you make a garden, you can grow much of your own food. Do you know that if you eat fewer meat and dairy products, you can reduce greenhouse gas output? You can also save the environment by reducing, reusing and recycling the things you use. The most important idea is if you don't buy so many things in the first place, you don't need to reuse or recycle them.

You can also save energy by turning things off when you don't use them. People often leave lights, heating, air-conditioning, computers, TVs and gas burners on when they do not use them. Thus, they waste a lot of energy. Turning them off saves money too!

So, you can tackle climate change and live comfortably. There is plenty you can do. If we all work sensibly, we can save our lovely planet.

B Match the sentence parts in A with those in B.

A	B
1. If I have shorter showers I will	a. will keep me warm in winter

C The people below are taking care of their home and car, but they are doing many things that can damage the environment, especially our water. Identify the activities which you think may damage our environment.

- D Look at the list of Dos and Don'ts to keep the environment safe. Then make a poster in groups on what you can/can't do to save the environment in your city, town or village.

Dos	Don'ts
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Walk to your madrasah and shops • Dry your clothes and hair in the sun. • Plant trees • Use water from a bucket to wash your things. • Use jute or paper made bags for shopping • Use rechargeable batteries • Switch off your lights and fans when not in use 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Don't use cars if you can walk • Don't keep your lights and fans switched on all the time. • Don't use hose pipes for washing cars and watering plants. • Don't throw away your wastes here and there • Don't use plastic bags • Don't use electric dryers • Don't cut down trees

Shahana's husband Mr Zamil Huda works in a company office. His firm has a vacant position. On several days he told Shahana, "I want you to apply for the post." But Shahana said, "Please don't insist. I'm joining the local high school as a teacher." "What do you find in a teaching job, Shahana? I don't want you to do it." Her in-laws were also on his side. Yet, Shahana joined the school against the will of the family.

Weeks and months went by. Everyday Shahana helps with the household work. Every day she works hard to prepare her lessons. Every day she goes to school, teaches her students, and helps both weak and bright ones. They often come to her in the teacher's room, in the corridor, and even on the road, and talk to her about any academic or personal problems.

Within a year Shahana becomes a very good teacher. Students give her salam wherever they see her. Teachers, even the Headteacher, admire her. Parents and other people in the community come to see her at home and at the school and pay her great respect.

One day her husband said, "You have opened my eyes, Shahana. Teaching is more than a job. I didn't know it. Congratulations!"

"Thank you," she smiled.

"Tell me Shahana, how you could be such a great teacher!" Zamil wanted to know.

"I don't only teach my subject, I care for my students. I love them. I myself demonstrate good behaviour and inspire them to be good. That's all I do," replied Shahana.

Helen Keller was a great humanitarian. She cared deeply for the sick, injured and disabled people. The disabled people have a physical or mental problem that limits their activities or senses. Helen devoted her life to help them.

Helen was born in 1880 in Alabama, USA. Her parents were Captain Arthur Keller and Katherine Adams Keller. Her family was not rich. Their main source of income was cotton plantation.

Helen was born healthy, but in 1882 she became deaf, dumb and blind after a high fever. Her father heard about Perkins School for the Blind in Boston and contacted the Director there. In 1887 the Director sent one of his best students, Anne Sullivan, to help Helen. Anne worked hard to enable her to communicate.

In 1890 Helen's formal education started at Horace Mann School for the deaf in Boston. In 1892 she went to Wright-Humason School for the deaf in New York. Helen improved her communication skills and studied regular academic subjects. She then decided to go to college, and attended Cambridge School for Young Ladies in 1896. Later she studied at Radcliffe College. Here she learnt Braille, which was a new technique for reading. She also learnt how to type. Anne Sullivan was always with Helen. She sat with Helen in class and helped her by interpreting lectures and texts. In 1904 Helen received her BA degree with honours from Radcliffe College.

Two men were traveling together. Suddenly, they came across a bear. One of them quickly climbed up a tree and concealed himself in the branches. The other man did not know how to climb a tree. He realized he would be attacked. So, he fell flat on the ground.

Suggested answer He knew a bear never touches a dead animal. The bear came up to him. It felt him with its snout and smelt him all over. All this time, the man held his breath. He pretended to be dead. The bear was convinced that he was dead and walked away. When it was gone far away, the other man came down from the tree. He jokingly asked the lying man, "What did your friend whisper in your ears?" "He gave me a good advice," the man replied. Dear Sumaiya

I'm delighted to receive your email. You wanted to know about the celebration of the last Victory Day in our school. Now I'm giving a short description of that ceremony.

You know Victory Day is a red letter day in our history. So every year we celebrate the day with great honour. On the last 16 December we all came to the school at 9 a.m. The school was decorated nicely with balloons, festoons and placards. Students arranged a cultural programme and they also took part in some competitions. The programme started at 10 a.m. with the national anthem. Then we enjoyed the main programme. After the cultural program our Head Teacher distributed prizes among the winners. At last she delivered her valuable speech and thanked all. The programme ended at 2 p.m. We all enjoyed the day very much.

No more today. hope to hear from you soon.

10. Answer the following questions into a continuous paragraph on "Friendship":

10

- What is friendship?
- How is friendship developed?
- What are the qualities of good friends?
- What are the benefits of friendship?
- Why should we be careful about choosing friends?

Suggested Answer:

Men/women of similar dispositions are naturally attracted towards each other. In course of time, intimacy grows between them. They begin to trust each other. This is called friendship. Friendship, generally, grows between people of the same age and dispositions. They have similar passions, emotions and sentiments. A friend can be a companion, workmate, class-mate or any person with whom our feelings of affection are attached. Good friends are trustworthy, loyal and honest. They easily forgive us for our mistakes. They do not hesitate to give us valuable suggestions for our benefits. They share their moments of joy with us. At the same time, they freely ask us for help when in need. Most importantly, good friends value our presence in their life. People pass their days cheerfully in the company of friends. Our pleasure grows greater when we share good news with our friends. In distress, friends help one another. They also act as our honest guides or mentors. When we are confused, we can always approach our friend to discuss our confidential matter and seek his opinion. But there are some people who are friends of good time only. They are attracted by power or money and they leave us in our odd times. We need to be careful in choosing friends and we should stick to those who are friends in need. Thus, true friendship is a solace and a boon. Those men are fortunate indeed who have got really true and sincere friends.
